From information overload to action with Acrobat Studio.

Bring documents, AI, collaboration and content creation together.

When information is scattered across different systems and teams constantly switch between applications, everyday work becomes harder to manage. Acrobat Studio brings essential document workflows together in one secure experience.

Too many tools getting in the way?

Scattered information
Content sits across different systems.

Disconnected workflows
Teams move between applications to get work done.

Time-consuming processes
Searching, reviewing and managing information takes valuable time.

One Studio. Four connected solutions.

ACROBAT PRO

Create and manage
Create, edit, sign and manage PDFs.

AI ASSISTANT

Understand and act
Summarise and analyse documents and extract useful insights.

PDF SPACES

Organise and collaborate
Bring documents together in a central workspace for collaboration and review.

ADOBE EXPRESS

Create and communicate
Turn ideas and information into professional, on-brand content.

A more connected way to get work done

Collaborate smoothly
Keep people, projects and information connected.

Use AI in the flow of work
Find insights and work through information more efficiently.

Create customer-ready content
Transform information into polished communications with Adobe Express.

Simplify your stack
Bring essential document workflows together and reduce complexity.

Security built into the experience

Acrobat Studio has enterprise-grade security at its core, with protections designed to safeguard information, support compliance requirements and help organisations use AI responsibly.

Adobe does not use customer documents to train AI models.
